Responsibilities of a Principal Investigator in improving research culture

- Be nurturing and compassionate
- Avoid abuse of power, exploitation and harassment
- Provide education, training and guidance
- Communicate expectations
- Provide psychosocial support
- Balance your approach and empower your team
- Foster trust, honesty and respect
- Critically review all research and guard against questionable research practices
- Promote ethical conduct of research
- Critically reflect on your own behaviour and be open to reverse mentoring
- Encourage collaboration, inclusivity and diversified opinions

Learn more about research integrity at ukrio.org