Academic disciplines involved in formal requests for assistance 2007-2016: breakdown by year (n=662)

- Increase in the number of multi-disciplinary requests; arts and humanities and social sciences.
- UKRIO’s ‘relevance projects’ aim to further assist these disciplines.

UKRIO Advisory Service

Percentage of formal requests relating to good practice in research integrity/governance from 2007 to 2016

Examples:

- “How do we make sure this research project runs smoothly?” or “We’ve run into problems [not fraud] with this project, can you help?”
- “How do we make sure [type of research project] runs smoothly in the future?”
- “How do we make sure this particular investigation proceeds according to good practice?”
- “How do we make sure [type of misconduct investigation] proceeds according to good practice?”
- Help with creating or revising systems for research integrity, ethics and governance.

Forthcoming material from UKRIO

- Training ‘tool kit’
 - Core curriculum for research integrity training
 - Sample slides, case studies and material
 - Tailored for particular disciplines and career stages
- New guidance, e.g.
 - Annual institutional research integrity statements
 - Detailed guidance on establishing research integrity ‘Champions’ and ‘Advisers’ in your institution
 - Research integrity in animal subject research
- Guidance notes supported by other materials, e.g. slides, webcasts
- What other topics would you like us to cover?

Collaborative work and research culture

- Collaborative work
 - ARMA-UKRIO guidance for research ethics committees
 - Royal Society-UKRIO work on research culture
 - Informing the work of the Concordat stakeholders as their guidance and requirements evolve
 - Exploring how we can support the work of UKRI
- ‘The Relevance Project’
 - How is research integrity perceived in certain disciplines?
 - What support is most relevant? What is less relevant?
 - UKRIO will hold workshops covering disciplines where research integrity can be seen as underserved, e.g the arts and humanities, mathematics and computing, the physical sciences.

Discussion

- What support do you need from UKRIO?
- What topics should future publications cover?
- What feedback on national and international initiatives do you want us to raise on your behalf?
- Forthcoming report on research integrity from the Science and Technology Committee
- UK National Research Integrity Forum and the evolution of the Concordat: how can these be most useful to the UK research community?
